□ No wonder you were confused about the reported "going-away" party given two weeks ago for Peter and Marilyn Mazza. They were also confused as to whether or not they were moving. The truth is that there was a party (mostly factual, with a few embellishments) and even though they have decided not to move, the merriment was not wasted!

□ Eleanor Downs, a life-long resident of Cohasset and its oldest citizen, celebrated her 102nd birthday last week. She began the day by playing a tune on the piano at the Ripley Road Nursing Home, where she lives and was treated to a luncheon at the Red Lion Inn. Many happy returns!

□ Mrs. Harold Coughlin and Mrs. Eric Pearson were members of the Doric Dames Committee which recently sponsored a thank you luncheon, held at Pier 4 Restaurant, for the 67 Junior Guides who worked as State House guides over the summer months.

□ Jim Clinton of Parker Avenue took 1st place in the A Division of the Hingham Sunfish and Force Five race at Hingham Yacht Club on Sunday. Jim finished ahead of the seven other boats with a total score of 18 3/4. Placing 3rd in the B Division with 16 points, was Chris Greenman on Stoneleigh Lane.

A candlelight flotilla celebrated the elevation of Richard Horn as Rear Admiral of the Cohasset Sailing Club over the weekend.

After a virtual grounding on Bassing Beach, the flagship Yawl'll wallowed majestically towards the dock, with Lady Caroline Horn in the bow — illuminated by twin hurricane lamps.

Wellwishers under the canvas at the Cox Home gathered to add their cheers of approbation to the grande spectacle.

The evening ended at the Conway Estate with a spirited and genteel discussion of naval action past and present. Captain Kirby Meacham raised his pewter mug in a final toast to the waning summer and cirrus nimbus.

"Just walk'n on Sandy Beach."
